Who We Are: The Chemical Institute of Canada (CIC)

- A member-based not-for-profit association, made up of three societies:
 - Canadian Society for Chemistry (CSC)
 - Canadian Society for Chemical Engineering (CSChE)
 - Canadian Society for Chemical Technology (CSCT)
- We connect our members to create an unparalleled community that champions chemical science, engineering, and technology in Canada.

CIC Membership Resources

The CIC helps the Canadian chemical sciences community connect to share ideas and enhance understanding and skills. We celebrate achievements through awards and promote new insights through our news stories and our journal. We create opportunities for our members to take their careers further. Visit our website to learn more about our membership opportunities.

JOB BOARD

CIC Career Support Tools

All members of the CIC have access to a tailored job board that features employment openings available in different fields and industries in both Canada and abroad. The CIC Job Board is consistently being updated with new employment listings to ensure that our members don't miss these opportunities. To learn more about our other membership benefits, visit our website today.
